myrt

was created for those who believe...

...that there's a smarter way to do things.

These are people who are always thinking one step ahead, so providing them with products that exist an additional stride forward are all the better.

Myth customers live in the world of Uber, FitBit, Snapchat, Bitcoin. They're individuals who seek out the next great innovation—creations that take the conventional and reinvent them in an unconventional (read: superior) manner.

...that backpacks, briefs, and sleeves can be smarter, too.

Whether they identify as a Myth, a Myth-ster, or a Myth-ess, these doers not only want their gear to serve a purpose, they want that usefulness to be intuitive. They also command high expectations for style (working smarter + looking smarter).

The imaginative intelligence of our newest creations delivers across the board—with remarkable comfort, convenience, and flair, as well as an unsurpassed commitment to ensuring the safety of their precious digital cargo.

Myth customers see themselves as smarter than most. They deserve a daily carry to match.

...that there can also be a smarter bag.

It's the reason why wheels are round and not square.

Sometimes, there's just a smarter way. Since our founding in 1998, our mission has been to create products for people who are always thinking one step ahead—looking for the intuitive, ingenious, and inventive.

STM. Smarter bags. Smarter choice. Smarter you.
